

Certification for Salesforce CRM Administrators

More than 87,200 salesforce.com customers, with more than 2 million users, need highly skilled professionals to administer, customize, and extend their Salesforce and cloud-based applications. Those companies are clamoring for people with proven skills and capabilities to help configure Salesforce applications, manage users and data, maintain security, extend existing applications, and build new ones. They're looking for Salesforce.com Certified Professionals

The Salesforce.com Certification Program

Salesforce.com currently offers certification for administrators, developers, and consultants. Those interested in becoming certified can either take the certification exam directly or enroll in courses to prepare for the exams. All classes include a voucher for the exams. To determine whether you're ready to pass the exam, please visit www.salesforce.com/uk/certification to download the certification study guides.

Premier Training: Crank Up Your ROI:

Imagine if your whole team had access to the entire salesforce.com course catalog, including unlimited seats in our classes, certification for key roles, and hours of exclusive, up-to-the-minute online training content. Learn more about Premier Training: our new unlimited, subscription-based training service. Visit www.salesforce.com/uk/premier.

Maintaining Your Credential

Maintaining your credential requires successful completion of release-level certifications for the major Salesforce releases throughout the year.

All certifications include access to new release content for subsequent releases, along with the associated exams, for 1 year. After a year, there is a maintenance fee of $100 to keep the certification current for the following year. Certified salesforce.com professionals will be notified automatically when new release content and exams become available.

Signing up for Certification

A certification candidate can take the proctored exams—and the classes to prepare them for those exams—at locations throughout the world.

To register for a certification exam, go to www.salesforce.com/uk/certification and follow the instructions to select an exam, location, time, and method of payment. If you've taken a preparatory course, you'll be given a voucher number to use when registering.

To register for any Salesforce.com Training & Certification class, visit www.salesforce.com/uk/training or call +353 1 440 3333.

“Individuals who are contemplating careers in cloud computing now have a way to not only get trained, but also to earn a valuable credential.”
